To whom it may concern,

I am writing to let you know that Academia Stella Maris (www.academiastellamaris.ca) merits your financial and prayerful support. Academia Stella Maris is a not-for-profit private Catholic school located in Limoges, in the Archdiocese of Ottawa, close to the East end of Ottawa. This school spans kindergarten to grade eight with teaching faithful to the Magisterium of the Church. Parents from all over Ottawa, the Nation municipality, and Prescott-Russell Township send their children there.

I visited the school in August and I found the teachers and families to be welcoming and supportive. The school's programs are designed to allow children to grow in knowledge and faith.

Because Academia Stella Maris is not government funded, it must rely on tuition fees and donations to sustain itself. The school seeks to grow its full-time program as well as assist homeschooling families. The noble goals of this registered charity require the financial resources that you can provide.

I thank you for your generosity,

Sincerely yours in Christ,
